

Alice Betty Harvard
1901 – 1956

Funeral Services Held For Alice Betty Harvard

TEN SLEEP — Funeral services were conducted here recently for Alice Betty Harvard who died in her Carmel, Calif., home June 8.

The Rev. R. F. Goff presided. Pallbearers were Byron Breeden, Ralph Breeden, LeRoy Woody, Carl Williams, Footer Mills and Golden Allured. Honorary pallbearers were Archie Jacobs, Arnold Waln, Harry Mills, Henry Tully, Ed Beakley and Brooks Egbert.

Music was furnished by Mrs. Frank Davis, Margaret Frison, Bob Ludke and Bessie Everett.

Powell Hospital Notes

Admitted—Ruby Maderos, Neal Ryman, Steven Bushey, Sara Wegner, Ellis Acott, Frank Martin, Jason Green.

Dismissed—Kathy Hazlitt, Gary McGary.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. James Fregia, a son, June 18; to Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Dawson, a daughter, June 19; to Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Karst, a son, June 21; and to Mr. and Mrs. Jess Aguirre, a daughter, June 20.

Miss Harvard was born at the Harvard ranch July 4, 1901, a daughter of Sydney and Jannette Harvard. She grew up on the Harvard ranch and attended the country school and high school at Worland.

She taught school in the winters and attended school in summers until she received her B. A. degree. She devoted her life to education and made journalism her hobby. She was working on several books at the time of her death.

She taught at the mountain school above Big Trails, the Red Bank school and at Popo Agie. After obtaining her master's degree she taught at Seattle, in Alaska and in California.

Recently she discovered she was a victim of a serious illness and her niece, Dorsey Redland, notified her family. Her sisters, Mrs. Nick Geis and Mrs. Richard Redland immediately went to San Francisco where she was undergoing treatment but she died suddenly while preparations were being made to bring her to Wyoming.

In addition to Mrs. Geis and Mrs. Redland, she is survived by five brothers, Clyde Harvard, Frank Harvard, Joe Harvard, Lewis Harvard and Harry Harvard.

TEN SLEEP -- Funeral services were conducted here recently Alice Betty Harvard who died in her Carel, Calif., home June 8.

The Rev. R. F. Goff presided. Pallbears were Byron Breeden, Ralph Breeden, LeRoy Woody, Carl Williams, Foster Mills, and Golden Alred. Honorary pallbearers were Archie Jacobs, Arnold Waln, Harry Mills, Henry Tully, Ed Beckley and Brooks Egbert.

Miss. Harvard was born at the Harvard ranch July 4, 1901, a daughter of Sydney and Jeanette Harvard. She grew up on the Harvard ranch and attended country school and high school at Worland.

She taught school in the winters and attended school in summers until she received her B, A. degree. She taught school at the mountain school above Big Trails, the Red Bank school and at Popo Agie. After obtaining her master's degree she taught at Seattle, in Alaska and in California.

Recently she discovered she was a victim of a serious illness and her niece, Dorsey Redland, notified her family. Her sisters, Mrs. Nick Geis and Mrs.

Richard Redland immediately went to San Francisco where she was undergoing treatment but she died suddenly while preparations were being made to bring her to Wyoming.

In addition to Mrs. Geis and Mrs. Redland, she is survived by five brothers, Clyde Harvard, Frank Harvard, Joe Harvard, Lewis Harvard and Harry Harvard.

Alice Harvard Rites Slated

Funeral services for Alice Betty Harvard, 54, who died Sunday in her home at Carmel, Calif., will be conducted in the Methodist church at Ten Sleep Friday at 2 p.m.

Her body will be at Veille's chapel until that time.

Her sisters, Mrs. Richard Redland, Ten Sleep, and Mrs. Nick Geis, Worland, and her brother, Lewis A. Harvard, Seattle, Wash., were with her at the time of her death. Also present were two nieces, Mrs. Rawley Coffield and Dorsey Redland, both of California.