

Charlotte Mae Brown Maller, Obituary, Northern Wyoming Daily News, Worland, Wyoming, June 21, 2003, page 2.

WORLAND --- Graveside funeral services for Charlotte Mae Brown Maller, 71, will be held at the Ten Sleep Cemetery on Wednesday, June 25 at 10 a.m., with the Rev. Bud Surles officiating. Burial will follow.

A visitation will be held Tuesday from 4 p.m. until 7 p.m. at the Atwood Family Chapel, 419 West C Street in Basin.

Charlotte passed away on Saturday, June 21, 2003 at the Worland Healthcare and Rehabilitation Center in Worland after a courageous battle with cancer.

Charlotte was born March 14, 1932 in Gibson, Mont., the daughter of Ross and Mazie (Stephens) Brown. At the age of four, she moved to Basin. In 1950, Charlotte graduated from Basin High School.

She married Glen Rex Maller in 1951 and they ranched in the Burlington area. They had two daughters. Nola was born in 1952 and Doreen was born in 1955. They later ranched in Manderson and on the Lower Nowood in Ten Sleep.

Charlotte enjoyed animals. She raised bum lambs and quarter horses. She worked as a store clerk and waitress in the Ten Sleep and Worland area. Charlotte also worked as a partner with Glen over the years in putting on ropings and rodeos, including the Ten Sleep Night Rodeo.

Charlotte also came to enjoy participating in flea markets and playing bingo. She loved music and dancing and was an avid sports fan. She especially enjoyed football, basketball and horse racing. After the death of her husband, Glen, in 1995, Charlotte's constant companion was her little dog, Sissy.

She was preceded in death by her brother, Mark in 1981; her dad, Ross in 1985; her mother, Mazie in 1992; and her husband, Glen in 1995.

Charlotte is survived by her daughters, Nola Smith of Avon, Colo. and Doreen Geis of Worland; two granddaughters, Gwen Clifton of Willcox, Ariz. and Heidi Johnson of Worland; and four great-grandchildren, Kodie, Jason, and Hailey Clifton, and Madie Johnson.

Atwood Family Funeral Directors, Inc. in Basin are in charge of arrangements.
